Head Teacher's Message

Linking to the 75th Anniversary of the D-Day landings, we have been discussing the British Values of Tolerance & Mutual Respect. Were it not for the bravery of the Allied forces, Britain would be a very different place today and the freedom which we enjoy would not exist. However, discrimination is still present and as a school, and a wider community, it is our duty to challenge it and educate our children to recognise that having a tolerant and respectful attitude towards others who may be different from us is the only way to create a harmonious society.

That which unites us is stronger than that which divides us.

This links to Articles 2, 14, 22 and 23 of the UNCRC.

Best wishes for a relaxing weekend.

Year 3 News

This week the children of Year 3 have taken part in a very exciting art project, which promises to be one of the most ambitious schools project that London has ever seen.

A photographer from the Tate gallery has visited our school to take class photos which will be used to create the largest group portrait ever – featuring all Year 3 pupils from across London.

The epic picture will be displayed next year in Tate Britain for six months. By taking part, our pupils will see themselves in one of the most compelling British artworks of our time at the heart of the nation's collection.
